

Virginia Research Advisory Committee

The members of the Research Advisory Committee represent a range of organizations including academic institutions, social and human services organizations, and government agencies; knowledgeable in public policy, education, health care, labor, and tax laws.

The Committee’s primary purpose was to support the ALICE Research Team in their data collection and analysis for the United Way ALICE Report in the state of Virginia. Committee members brought their expertise and experiences to inform and elevate the discussion on pressing local topics, as well as help identify and access data in particular areas.
