Howdy, volunteers!

It's been an eventful week for the RUW tax program. We had our first tax site audit of the season, a record-breaking return, and the "blessings" of Virginia weather—but stellar efforts from volunteers and Site Coordinators all the way through.

Quick on their feet and full of knowledge, Site Coordinators Julie and Neena scored a 100 percent during an IRS audit at Porter Library last Wednesday! Thank you, ladies!

Thursday proved just as exciting. Volunteer Kathi and Site Coordinator Neena worked together to complete a five-hour return during an appointment at RUW. Here for the long haul, volunteers Patrick and Don stayed for moral support until nearly 9pm.

And when life gave us lemons Saturday morning, knocking out RUW's internet, volunteer Dale single-handedly powered three computers; all with his phone's mobile hotspot.

I know we have the best volunteers around, but this past week proves it.
