

An emergency fund is no match for a global pandemic.

BE THERE

Matt is a single dad to a rambunctious little girl. He's been working at a local car repair place making good money and providing for his family. Because of COVID-19, Matt was recently laid off. His emergency fund isn't large enough to weather this storm. Matt reached out to RUW to help cover a month of rent while he applies for unemployment and actively looks for new job opportunities. Through the ALICE Assistance Fund, RUW quickly sprang into action and took care of Matt's rent so he could focus on finding a stable job and taking care of his daughter.
