RAPPAHANNOCK UNITED WAY WELCOMES INTUIT FINANCIAL FREEDOM FOUNDATION FUNDING

Fredericksburg-based nonprofit receives $20,000 from Intuit Financial Freedom Foundation to help working households save at tax time and strengthen their financial futures.

Fredericksburg, VA (September, 2022)— The Intuit Financial Freedom Foundation (IFFF), the presenting sponsor of Tax Time Allies, has awarded Rappahannock United Way $20,000 to support and grow its programs that empower low- and moderate-income individuals and families to save during tax season by using free IRS-sponsored tax preparation resources – Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) and IRS Free File – to file their tax returns. Tax Time Allies are a group of organizations across the country partnering to help taxpayers seize the tax time moment and take control of their finances.

“We’re proud to count Rappahannock United Way as a Tax Time Ally and to partner with them in this work for over 12 years,” said Susan Mason, Director of the Intuit Financial Freedom Foundation. “Together we embrace tax time as an opportunity for low- and moderate-income individuals and families to set a new direction for their financial future.”

Rappahannock United Way will use these funds to continue to help eligible taxpayers in our community learn about, access, and use free IRS-sponsored taxpayer assistance services as well as help them discover opportunities to save a portion of their tax refund.

In 2022, Rappahannock United Way’s Free Tax Program assisted 1,136 individuals in filing their state and federal tax returns. Over $1.4 million in tax credits and refunds were returned to the Fredericksburg Region. If your household income was $80,000 or less in 2022, you may be eligible to file your taxes for free through Prosper: Tax Services by Rappahannock United Way.

“We’re delighted to be a part of such a strong network of free tax preparation assistance providers that are tirelessly working to ensure that those who need it most, are getting access to quality no-cost tax preparation services,” said Sarah Walsh, Chief Impact Officer at Rappahannock United Way. “Being a Tax Time Ally means you care about making your community a better place and empowering taxpayers to strengthen their financial health through free IRS-sponsored tax preparation services. At Rappahannock United Way lifting up the community is in our DNA.”
